FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The Funding Bill Passed the Senate—Alaska Appropriation Bill Passed by the House.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 14, 1868.

SENATE.

The credentials of Wm. Pinckney White, appointed to succeed Senator Johnson as Senator from Maryland, were presented by Mr. VICKERS, and he was sworn in and took a seat.

Mr. TRUMBULL called up the bill to authorize the temporary supplying of vacancies in Executive Departments, and moved to amend by adding at the end of the third section a proviso that in case of death, resignation, absence, or sickness of the Commissioner of Patents, the duties of said Commissioner, until a successor shall be appointed, or such absence or sickness shall cease, shall devolve upon one of the examiners in chief of said office, to be recommended by the President. The amendment was agreed to.

The bill was further amended on motion of Mr. EDMUNDS, by adding the words, "and no appointment or designation, otherwise than as herein provided in the cases mentioned in the first and second sections, shall be made to fill vacancies happening during the recess of the Senate," and as amended the bill passed and goes to the House for concurrence.

Mr. CATTELL called up the bill to authorize the issue of three per cent. temporary loan certificates to redeem the compound interest notes. The question was on Mr. Trumbull's amendment, providing for monthly sales of gold by the Treasury Department, not exceeding ten millions a month, commencing on the first of August next, until the amount in the Treasury does not exceed $40,800,000.

A long debate ensued, Messrs. Trumbull and Cameron supporting the amendment, and Mr. Cattell opposing it. The latter read a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury to show that the balance in the Treasury will soon be reduced by payments of interest and for Alaska to about $37,000,000.

Mr. MORTON offered an amendment that the supplies now in the Treasury, or accruing next year, shall be used for the redemption of legal tender notes.

Mr. CONKLING opposed it, calling attention to the fact that Congress had decided no more greenbacks shall be retired.

The amendment was rejected—eight to thirty.

Mr. TRUMBULL then withdrew his motion to make his amendment a substitute for the bill, and offered it as an additional section.

Mr. HOWE spoke against the bill, and Mr. WILLIAMS in its favor.

Further debate sprung up, and Mr. SHERMAN insisting on the regular order, the funding bill was taken up.

Mr. HENDRICKS took the floor, and commenced a political speech, in reply to others made recently.

Mr. HENDRICKS, in the course of his remarks, declared himself unreservedly in favor of the platform of the New York Convention, and especially, in reply to questions, supported the plank which declares for the payment of 5-20s in lawful money. He also eulogized Mr. Seymour and expressed the opinion he would be elected and command the confidence of the country as not a sectional but a national man. He also spoke highly of Blair as generous, talented and brave. His fame would be guarded by his late associates in arms. He concluded by expressing the hope that next March will see a restoration of the country to that peace which rests not upon subjugation to despotic power but upon the restored supremacy of the Constitution and the rightful authority of the departments of the government to a prosperity as enduring as that of peace.

The consideration of the bill was interrupted by the report of the Committee of Conference on the civil appropriation bill, which was concurred in.

Mr. STEWART then replied to Mr. Hendricks, criticising the records of the Democratic party and its nominees, and predicting the triumphant vindication of the principles and policy of the Republican party at the polls in November.

The question was on Mr. Wilson's amendment proposing the issue of fifty year bonds for the consolidation of the debt, to be taxed one-half of one per cent. It was rejected.

Mr. HOWARD moved to add to the section legalizing gold contracts a proviso that it shall not apply to the removal or extension of an indebtedness under a contract already entered into, unless such contract originally required payment in coin.

Mr. SHERMAN suggested a substitute for Mr. Howard's amendment, providing that when the stipulation to pay interest in coin is a device to obtain illegal or usurious interest, it shall not be enforced.

After some discussion between Messrs. Conkling, Williams and Corbett on the amendment,

Mr. COLE delivered a prepared speech, arguing that the legalization of gold contracts will gradually cause gold to reappear in circulation, and any other than this or a similar plan would create general distress.

At 4:35 Mr. TRUMBULL moved an executive session, which prevailed—26 to 17.

After Executive session a recess was taken.

At the evening session the House amendments to the bill for the discontinuance of the Freedmen's Bureau were concurred in.

The following bills were passed:

Appropriating $20,000 for money expended by Mrs. L. D. Potter, of Charleston, for relief of Union prisoners during the war, and for the removal of certain political disabilities from persons named.

Mr. CAMERON introduced a bill to remit the duties on the statue intended to surmount the soldiers' monument at Harrisburg. Referred.

The funding bill was taken up.

Mr. WILLIAMS offered a modification of Mr. Howard's amendment, which was accepted by the latter and adopted. It is as follows: Provided, That the section shall not apply to contracts for the borrowing of currency on the renewal or extension under a contract already entered into, unless such contract originally required payment in coin.

Mr. RAMSEY moved to strike out in the clause legalizing gold contracts hereafter made the word "hereinafter," and insert therefor "January 1st, 1867." After discussion the amendment was rejected.

Mr. FERRY moved to insert in the clause providing that said bonds and their proceeds shall be used to redeem the interest bearing debt, the words, "at the option of the holder."

Mr. DAVIS moved to lay the bill on the table. Rejected by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Cameron, Davis, Fessenden, Fowler, Harlan, McCreery, McDonald, Patterson (Tennessee), Wade.

Nays—Messrs. Anthony, Cole, Conkling, Conness, Cragin, Drake, Ferry, Frelinghuysen, Howard, Morgan, Morrill (Vermont), Osborn, Patterson (New Hampshire), Pomeroy, Ramsey, Rice, Sherman, Stewart, Tipton, Welch, Willea, Williams and Wilson.

Mr. FESSENDEN suggested to strike out the words, "for the redemption, payment or purchase, or exchange for" in the clause just proposed to be annulled, and insert words "in exchange."

Mr. FESSENDEN supported his amendment.

Mr. SHERMAN replied, saying in response to a doubt expressed that any takers will be found for the new bonds, considering the low rate of interest, that many persons at home and in Europe have already made a proposition to take these bonds at par for the Five-Twenties.

Mr. FERRY explained his amendment as prompted by a fear that the bill might be construed to authorize compulsory payment in greenbacks—a fear quite natural, he thought, considering the views recently expressed by Senators Sherman and Morton, and of the possibility of a future Secretary of the Treasury holding the same opinion, which he (Mr. Ferry) contended was opposed to an inviolable principle of the Republican party.

Mr. SHERMAN denied that any such construction could be pleaded. He had, however, no objection to the amendment.

Mr. CAMERON offered an additional section forbidding, after the passage of this act, payment of any commission, per centage or compensation to any person for the sale or negotiation of any bond or securities of the United States.

Mr. SHERMAN stated a similar provision had been inserted in an appropriation bill, passed recently by both houses.

Messrs. HOWARD and CONKLING urged that even if it should prove a superfluity, the amendment would do no harm. It was then agreed to.

A question asked by Mr. PATTERSON, of New Hampshire, in regard to the effect of the third section, to which Mr. SHERMAN replied, give rise to considerable debate, Messrs. Fessenden and Conkling strenuously opposing the provision, and Messrs. Sherman and Sumner as tenaciously defending it.

Mr. CONKLING moved to strike out the third section.

Mr. MORRILL gave notice he would move to strike out of the section the portion giving rise to the principal objection, leaving simply the provision allowing the conversion of lawful money into bonds, and to add the words "and the lawful money so received shall be cancelled and not again re-issued."

Mr. Morrill's amendment was rejected.

Mr. CONKLING'S motion to strike out was agreed to.

Yeas—Cameron, Chandler, Conkling, Corbett, Drake, Ferry, Fessenden, Frelinghuysen, Harlan, Hendricks, Howe, McDonald, Morrill, (Me.,) Morrill, (Vt.,) Patterson, (N. H.,) Patterson, (Tenn.,) Pomeroy, Rice, Wilson—19.

Nays—Messrs. Cattell, Cole, Conness, Henderson, Morgan, Nye, Osborne, Ramsay, Ross, Sherman, Stuart, Sumner, Tipton, Wade, Wiley, Williams.

The bill then passed.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. LOGAN, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill providing that after the first of June, 1869, the whole compensation of United States designated Depositories at Chicago shall not exceed $2,500.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Garfield in the Chair, on the Alaska bill, the question being on the appeal taken when the subject was last before the Committee by Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, from the decision of the chair ruling out of order an amendment, proposed by Mr. Butler, to reserve from the sum to be paid to Russia $500,000 for satisfaction of claims of American citizens against that government.

The decision of the Chair was sustained—92 to 27.

The question recurred on the substitute offered by Mr. Loughridge, declaring, after many preambles, that the assent of Congress is given to the stipulations of the treaty, but declaring the extension of citizenship and appropriation of money are subjects submitted by the Constitution to Congress. This was agreed to—71 to 34.

Mr. ELIOT moved to add to the bill a proviso that no purchase in behalf of the United States of foreign territory shall be hereafter made until provision is made by law for its payment, and declaring that the powers vested by the Constitution to the President and Senate to enter into treaties with foreign powers do include the power to complete the purchase of foreign territory before the necessary appropriations have been made therefor by act of Congress. Agreed to.

Mr. BUTLER made another attempt to insert a condition for the settlement of claims of United States citizens against Russia. The amendment was ruled out of order.

The Committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

The House agreed to Mr. Loughridge's amendment—98 to 48 and rejected that of Mr. Eliot—18 against 80.

The bill then passed—114 to 42.

The report of the Committee of Conference on sundry civil expenses appropriation bill, making appropriations for service of Columbia Institute for deaf and dumb, was considered, without final action.

The Senate amendments to the bill to authorize temporary supplying of vacancies in Executive Departments were non-concurred in.

Recess until 7:30.

Evening Session.—Thermometer in the Chamber ninety-two degrees.

The SPEAKER appointed Messrs. Boutwell, Wilson, (Iowa,) and Marshall a Committee of Conference on some disagreeing votes on the bill authorizing the temporary supplying of vacancies in the Executive Department.

The House went into Committee of the Whole for general debate, and was addressed by Mr. VAN TRUMP on the subject of the "visible admixture" law of Ohio, by Mr. SCHOFIELD in defense of the policy of the Republican party, and by Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, in favor of taxing United States bonds.

Restoration of Civil Law in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—After his inauguration yesterday, Gov. Warmouth sent a communicate to Gen. Buchanan, officially notifying the latter of the adoption of the fourteenth amendment and the inauguration of the Governor. On the receipt of this communication Gen. Buchanan issued an order, of which the following is the substance: The Commanding General having been officially notified of the ratification of the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States by the Legislature of Louisiana, on the ninth instant, it becomes his duty, under the act of Congress, which became a law June 25, 1868, and the order of the General of the Army to announce to the people of the State and to the troops under his command that the provisions of the reconstruction acts of Congress cease to operate in Louisiana. From this date military authority will no longer be exercised under the reconstruction acts in said State, and all officers commanding posts or detachments are forbidden to interfere in civil affairs, unless on proper application by the civil authorities to preserve the peace, or under instructions duly received from the commanding General of the district. Military law no longer exists. The civil law is the supreme order of the State. All civil officers acting under military appointment will transfer their offices and everything pertaining thereto to their successors, who have been duly elected and who have been qualified under the laws of the State. NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH, July 14.—According to a resolution adopted in the caucus last night the General Assembly to-day elected John Pool, of Pasquatauk, United States Senator for the long term, until the 4th of March, 1873, and General J. C. Abbott, formerly of New Hampshire, and now of New Hanover, for the short term, which expires March 4th, 1871.

Governor Holden yesterday, without notice, appointed a new Board of Commissioners for this city, thus supplanting municipal authority. They believed the Governor had transcended his powers and referred the case to the Council, who were of the opinion that the Governor was acting without law or authority and so advised the city authorities, whereupon the latter notified the new Board that they would not give place to them until legally elected or appointed. It is rumored the Governor has called on General Canby to allow him military support to enforce his order.

ALABAMA.

To-day Governor Smith was inaugurated in the presence of the two Houses. He sent in a message which is in the main more conservative than was expected. He recommends in strong language the removal of all disabilities from the people of Alabama and bitterly opposes any disfranchisement except for crime.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBIA, July 14.—The Legislature to-day elected Thos. J. Robertson United States Senator for the short term, ending in 1871. The Senate, on the fifth ballot, elected F. A. Sawyer, who is Collector of Internal Revenue for Charleston, United States Senator for the long term. The result regarding the latter's election in the House is yet undecided. The Lieut. Governor was inaugurated to-day.

WASHINGTON TOPICS AND GOSSIP.

Hon. Robert J. Walker has returned from New York, where he attended the National Convention in hope of securing the nomination of General Hancock, and does not conceal his disappointment at the result, and especially with the repudiating resolution.

Seymour is reported to say that the reason which prevented his accepting the nomination was his personal promise to Mr. Chase that he would not be a candidate. After the nomination was made Chase's friends absolved him from his promise and left him free to accept. Chase sustains the action of his friends, and expresses himself satisfied with the result of the Convention.

In answer to the question, "How do the New York nominations take?" Andrew Johnson is reported to have replied, "Like the small pox; d——d hard to get rid of." The third party movement receives but little encouragement, except from the followers of Johnson, who, having committed themselves against Grant and Colfax, and not being able to swallow Blair's revolutionary schemes, find themselves without a representative in the pending contest. They say they would have been satisfied with Chase and Hancock, or Johnson and some one else, but at present they are afloat. Quite a number of this class have given in their adherence to Grant, among them it is rumored several members of the present Cabinet, including Seward and Randall.

Wm. P. White, who was appointed by Gov. Swan, to the vacancy made in the Senate by Reverdy Johnson's resignation, is a lawyer of Baltimore.

Some Western Democrats declare that Seymour had made a positive promise to decline after receiving a unanimous vote, and enable them to make a speedy nomination of another candidate, with the delegations united.

The National Convention of the new party will be held in Cincinnati in September, it is said, when Chase will be nominated for President and Gen. Tom Ewing, of Kansas, for Vice President. The movement is said to meet with the favor of the President and many distinguished and influential persons throughout the country. There is already some alarm evident among the Democrats in consequence of this move.

Mr. Burbridge, of Kentucky, is pushing his claims for appointment as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The President will not be likely to appoint him.

About twelve hundred banks have sent in their reports for the quarter ending last month to the Comptroller of Currency. They all seem to be in a healthy condition.

The Conference Committee on the tax bill expected to get through with their work yesterday. The bank tax will be stricken out, but the license tax on liquor dealers will be retained.

The admission of two more members of the House, from North Carolina, makes one hundred a quorum. It is barely possible now, that with the aid of the new members, who are anxious to do something, the tariff may be considered in the House at this session, but the Senate is opposed to any further important legislation for the present.

The new Louisiana Senators arrived yesterday.

The Special Committee on Ordnance expect to submit only a partial report of their investigations at this session, and this will probably not be presented until next week.

The Committee to investigate treaty matters is also preparing its report, which will be submitted at an early day.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations had under consideration the new Chinese treaty, negotiated by the Burlingame Embassy. They will complete and probably report it for action at the Executive session to-day. The treaty contains no commercial provisions and contains no stipulations of consequence as affecting our relations with China. It is a rehearsal of truisms, generally recognized as existing by virtue of international law, without treaty stipulations between first class framers. An instance of this is the section that the United States may not build railroads in Chinese territory without their consent, nor they in the United States. The significance of this treaty lies in the fact that it recognizes the Chinese Empire as being within the community of treaty powers under the protection of the laws of nations, and it is valuable to them rather from its effect upon their future negotiations with European powers, some of which have been in the habit of acting as if China had no rights which they were bound to respect. This treaty affirms the inalienable right of immigration between the two countries, guarantees religious toleration, and stipulates that reciprocal educational privileges shall be accorded the citizens of the two countries in each others' schools.

Wm. Pinckney White was sworn in as Senator for Maryland, to fill the unexpired term of Reverdy Johnson.

MORTGAGES.

Same day ten mortgages were filed of record.

Trial of a New Organ.

The trial of the new organ built by Mr. A. Pomplitz, of Baltimore, for the First German Evangelical Lutheran Church on High street, attracted to the place yesterday afternoon quite a large number of the music-loving portion of the community. The organ, which is placed in the gallery built across the front of the church, seems to be a very superior instrument. It is thirty-four feet in height, fourteen feet wide and twelve feet deep, built in the Gothic style of architecture, and has thirty full stops. The solo stops are very natural, especially the clarionet. The flute and violin stops seemed very soft and melodious, and blended in perfect harmony with the clear, powerful tones of the diapasons. The external workmanship displayed great care on the part of the builder, and reflected credit on his taste and ability. The instrument was manipulated by Mr. H. Kleber and several other experts during the trial, which lasted about three hours, and seemed to meet the highest expectations of the purchasers. We understand that this is the twenty-seventh instrument built by Mr. Pomplitz, and judging from the favorable opinion expressed of it, he certainly has made a reputation in this vicinity in that line of business.

AUGUST BELMONT has been again elected to the chairmanship of the National Executive Committee. It is with sincere pleasure that we announce the fact. In 1864 Mr. Belmont gave us McClellan and the surrender platform—last week he served Seymour and a repudiation platform; and should he be spared in 1872 will doubtless present something equally offensive, and open for us an easy road to victory. This selection, however, secure, for another term, to the Rothschilds the manipulation of the Democratic party. This does not concern us particularly, but it must be a humiliating reflection to Democrats who once voted under the leadership of Jackson, and Benton, and Douglas, to know that their whole political organization is now the puppet of a banking house—an outside speculation of the great house of the Rothschilds, held in the pocket of and managed by their New York correspondent, August Belmont, formerly of Europe, and now resident in the United States.—Phil. Press.

THERE is but one way to account for the nomination of Frank P. Blair. He was the tub tossed to the Southern whale. His name was proposed by the Confederate General Preston, seconded by land-pirate Hampton, and indorsed by Fort Pillow Forrest. "A rebel soldier of Alabama took pleasure" in casting the vote of that State for him. Throughout, it was decidedly a Confederate bloviation. The South, as per agreement, had contributed its strength to swell the chorus for Seymour; then it demanded the right of naming the second place on the ticket. This could not be denied, and the consequence was "unfortunate" Blair.

WHILE the Democratic Convention was cheering for Chase and Johnson, the cream of the party, the martyrs who were imprisoned during the war for treason, were holding a side meeting, and denouncing in unmeasured language, "the President, who executes military law after declaring it unconstitutional," and the Chief Justice who drives victims of military usurpation away from his court."

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

A WELCOME.

Here's a welcome to you, Professor,
Arrived on the English strand;
For your songs across the Atlantic
In the tongue of the mother land.

Your lyrics are loved of the household.
That knows no Academy's law—
One hand's warm pressure is better
Than a whole world's distant awe.

It's cold in the clear blue ether.
That the king of the eagles achieves—
But the swallows have endless Summer
And build close under our eaves.

And the voices that bid you welcome
Are many and tender and true—
They'd not shout for the best of the poets
As loud as they're hailing you!

Come to the homes of the people.
Where your household words are dear;
There's seldom a poet has sung them
Such lyrics of courage and cheer.

The poet who taught "Resignation,"
Who sang us the "Psalm of Life,"
You are dear to them all, Professor,
Child, parent, husband and wife!

Aye, let the Universities seat you
In Temples of Honors and Arts;
The people of England, sir, greet you,
And open the doors of their hearts.

Cool Rooms.

Professor Attfield sends the following to the London Times:

In these hot days a cool apartment is a real luxury, a luxury to be had far oftener than most people suppose possible. The secret consists, not in letting in the cool air, for naturally all do that whenever they have the chance, but in keeping out hot air. If the air outside a room or house be cooler than the air inside, let it in by all means; but if it be hotter, carefully keep it out. A staircase window left open during the night will often cool the passages of a house, and the rooms too, if their doors be not shut; but it must be closed at eight or nine o'clock in the morning, or if on the sunny side, at four or five o'clock, and the blind drawn down. The mistake people generally make is to throw open their windows at all hours of the day, no matter whether the atmosphere outside be cool or scorching. "Let us have some air," they say, and in comes the treacherous breeze—for even hot air is pleasant while it is gently blowing, taking away perspiration, and thereby cooling the skin; but the apartment is made warmer instead of cooler, and as soon as they move out of the draught they find their room to be more uncomfortable than before. Let in cool air, keep out hot; that is the only formula to insure the minimum of discomfort. Sitting rooms may generally be kept cool during the whole day if the doors be only opened for ingress and egress, and the windows be kept close and shielded from direct sunshine by a blind. If the atmosphere of a room be impure from any cause, let it be renewed; hot air is less injurious than bad air. If the room be small in comparison with the number of persons engaged in it, free ventilation becomes indispensable. In a cooking apartment the temperature will probably be higher than outside, hence the free admission even of hot air will be desirable. If persons do not object to sit in a direct draught of air, windows and doors may be opened, a breeze being more refreshing, even though several degrees warmer, than cold air; but under nearly all other circumstances rooms should be kept closed as much as possible till aftersundown, or till the air outside is cooler than that inside. Let in cool air, keep out hot.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues oppressingly hot and sultry, and business at the main landing is completely suspended. The river is still receding steadily, with but eighteen inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks.

The Charmer left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday, and the Camelia was advertised to follow on Monday.

The steamer Elizabeth departs for Elizabeth at half-past three o'clock this afternoon. The Brownsville packets will run regularly hereafter.

Coal men, now that boats and barges can be locked through dam No. 2, will commence loading their crafts, to have them in readiness to go out on the first considerable rise in our rivers.

The following passenger steamers are lying at the Monongahela wharf: Messenger, Kate Robinson, Armenia, Kenton, Armadillo, Kate Putnam, Belle Vernon, Grey Eagle and Bayard.

The Yorktown passed Evansville on Saturday, en route from for Cincinnati. It is said that she cleared $10,000 on her recent trip to Fort Benton.

The America, enroute from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, passed Louisville on Saturday.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Saturday, says: River stationary, but falling all the way from St. Paul. Missouri stationary at St. Joseph; rising rapidly at Omaha. Business moderate. The small boats are preparing for active service, and the Pauline Carroll, for New Orleans, left yesterday with all the freight she wanted. The Omaha packets have more than they can handle. Thursday's boat left drawing 5½ feet, full of people. She left a large amount of freight for to-day's boat's. Arrived—Pembina, from St. Paul; Silver Cloud, Pittsburgh; Bee and barges, New Orleans. The Mary McDonald goes into the Ohio line for the low water season, taking the place of the Virginia, which will probably be enlarged. Another barge arrived yesterday, with 1,000 tuns railroad iron for the Chicago Railroad, making 4,000 tuns received during the past month.

—A diving bell boat has for two weeks been working at the wreck of the Highland Chief, sunk in the middle of the river, three miles above Vevay. The hull lies some twenty feet under water, and has been sunk now some four years. The diver stays down over an hour at a time, working with a wrench unscrewing nuts and fastening chains or ropes to engine fixtures, when they are hauled up. Several hundred dollars worth have been hauled up, and now they are waiting for a coal tug to go further up the river to other wrecks—the David Gibson, perhaps—near Aurora.

—From the Davenport Democrat we learn that on Saturday evening last Minnie Hall, little daughter of Peter Hall, a well-known St. Louis and St. Paul pilot, who lives at West Davenport, went with several of her companions to the river for the purpose of bathing. While there they attempted to cross the slough to the island on a board that had been laid down for crossing, and in doing so Minnie fell in and was drowned before assistance could reach her.

—The Louisville Courier, of Sunday, says: Capt. Sweeney, of the St. Mary's, telegraphs to his agents here that he has not received sufficient freight to justify going through, and that he will reship at Cairo. The St. Mary's had a very fair start from here, but failed to get anything below. We presume she will return here to lay up.

—The Memphis and Mound City ferryboat was sold at Receiver's sale, at Mound City, Thursday, and was bought at some price in the neighborhood of $7,000, by George Check. The ferry privilege was also sold at the same time for one year, at $450 per month.

—A Custom-House Inspector named J. Hastings committed suicide in New Orleans last week by taking morphine. He has relations living in Cambridge City, Indiana.

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 141⅞.

THE third party Convention is announced to be held at Cincinnati in September, and Conservative Democrats are already looking to it for their deliverance from the unutterable shame of SEYMOUR, BLAIR and Revolution.

ALABAMA ratifies the Constitutional Amendment. Georgia and South Carolina will make up the number of ratifying States to twenty-eight before the week closes, and the XIVth Article will become a part of the Federal Constitution.

WHO did the colored Democratic delegate from Tennessee vote for? The official report of the Convention sheds no light upon that dark subject. Can some Democratic journal or delegate from Pennsylvania answer this civil request for information?

THE Republican local ticket of Allegheny county is one of the best put forward for many years. It develops new strength daily and the large majority it is sure to receive in October, will prove but the forerunner of the glorious victory to be achieved in November.

IT IS SAID, and no doubt truly, that, during the session of the Democratic Convention, two loyal soldiers, who had experienced the horrors of captivity in Richmond, during the war, met the keeper of the Libby Prison wearing a delegate's badge! They fell upon him and gave him a dreadful beating, which was not unnatural.

SEYMOUR, BLAIR and Revolution will have a poor show in the canvass against GRANT, COLFAX and the Union. But it is probable that S. S. MARSHALL, of Illinois, explained it all, when, acknowledging the other day that his ticket would be easily beaten, he said: "We did not want to put on our best men this time; we reserve them for the next heat.

THE Woodward Democrats in '63 declared that, if they carried New York and Pennsylvania, no Union troops should pass to the front through either of these States; that WOODWARD and SEYMOUR would soon bring the war to an end, choking the loyal efforts by the throat. Of course, the WOODWARD school of politicians are all for SEYMOUR now.

DEMOCRATS, who cherish a vague notion that the rebel States, such as may remain unreconstructed when Congress adjourns, will still have a claim to take part in the Presidential election, will hear what a Democratic Senator said on that point, in debate last Thursday. Mr. BUCKALEW said:

> "As things now stand in this country, I am of opinion that the Presidential election of 1868 must be decided by those States which are now represented in Congress."

BEFORE the nominations of SEYMOUR and BLAIR, the Democratic papers commented significantly upon the quietness with which the Republicans were conducting the campaign; but, since then, the quietness has all departed, and now they are complaining of the ferocity with which the Republicans, all along the line, have plunged into the fight. There is no such thing as pleasing these fellows.

THE Republican City Executive Committee yesterday made a very sensible move in returning to the Crawford county system for nominating municipal officers, but the time appointed for the holding of primary meetings seems much too early for practical purposes. It would be well to reconsider that part of the resolution which fixes August 15th for the holding of the primary meetings, as there is no necessity for placing candidates in the field previous to September. Such a delay will bring out candidates not likely to be thought of during the brief space of time between now and the date designated by the Committee, and it is the object of the party to present the best material at its disposal in the important forthcoming October elections. Potent reasons, unnecessary to be mentioned here, might be brought to bear to favor the postponement of the time for holding the primary elections, and we hope the Committee will take the matter into consideration.

THE SITUATION AND ITS DUTIES.

There has never been a period, within our remembrance of politics, when large sections of any party have been so thoroughly disgusted and demoralized by official representative action, as are the Democracy of the West and Northwest at the present time. Not only in Western Pennsylvania are their bitter disappointment and chagrin palpably manifest, but in Ohio the entire party is disheartened, and reluctant to embark in a canvass which they feel to be hopelessly and justly desperate. They say that the wishes, the preferences of Western Democrats have been most insultingly spurned, by the adroit managers who moulded the recent Convention exactly to their purposes. It is of no use for the leaders, in whom they have habitually confided, to tell them that the platform meets their demands, if not the candidates. It is the fact that Western greenback Democrats view the platform with a degree of suspicion which they do not even attempt to disguise. They say that the platform pleases the bond-holding Democrats of Wall street quite too well to be exactly the thing for the masses who supported PENDLETON. They say it is a Wall street dodge, facing both ways, but capable of interpretation in the interests of the candidate whom Wall street has foisted upon them. It is a flimsy device to carry water upon both shoulders, capable of so many interpretations that any phase of Democratic sentiment can find official endorsement in it, or be excluded from its practical application at the pleasure of the President who may be chosen by its supporters. Show one of these justly suspicious Democrats a resolution which talks of greenback redemption, and he is very prompt to put his fingers upon another part of the same resolution, which defers that redemption for fifteen years, except to the extent of occasional applications of the surplus income resulting from taxation. This is not what the PENDLETON men bargained for, and the empty declaration with which the resolution concludes, they regard equally as an insult to their understandings and to their just demands upon the party.

They are equally disgusted with the nomination of BLAIR, the revolutionary violence of whose bid for the place ought, they say, to have been fatal to his claims in any assemblage of honest and patriotic citizens. How much deeper and more general that disgust will be when they read the shameful and dangerous avowals in his Saturday's speech of acceptance, it is easy to imagine. A very large proportion of the Democratic masses are honest in their political faith. We cannot say that their opinions are the result of reflection and observation. A taking name for their organization carries with it a vague, indefinite but most powerful charm, and they accept without question the more abstruse politics which their leaders propound, making their confidence a personal matter of which the Republican party has no experience whatever. The Democratic masses are Democratic from faith and on trust, some for the name of Democracy, others because their fathers were Democrats before them, and nearly all of them because they obstinately shut their ears and eyes to arguments, oral or in print, from the other side. But they are none the less honest in their prejudices, and patriotic and loyal in their instincts. Four-fifths of the party are free from the slightest taint of Copperheadism, because their intentions are thoroughly patriotic and such as become good citizens. It is the disloyal, malignant Copperheadism of the leaders whom they have trusted which has brought, year after year, defeat and ruinous disaster upon the party. It is this personal confidence, the most powerful tie which has hitherto held the Democracy together, which the New York nominations and platform have shaken more rudely, and, as things now look, more fatally than anything before known in the history of that or any other party in this country. The tenderest and most vital point has been touched, and so offensively and deeply that we doubt if Democratic sentiment from the Alleghenies to Cheyenne can ever recover from its effects.

All this will have an excellent result. These citizens are now ready to read Republican journals and to hear Republican speeches. They are still Democrats in avowal, but they have all at once become willing to hear both sides, now that they have found their own side so unfaithfully and unjustly controlled. The once glorious, incorruptible, unchangeable prestige of Democracy is gone forever in their eyes. Thousands of them would listen to a speech for GRANT to-morrow, who never before went near a meeting of their political opponents. And, of those thousands, not a few would soon cease to be Democrats.

The application is palpable. Republican reader, talk to your Democratic neighbor! Sit up with the sick men. If they are Pendletonians, show them the first half of the third Democratic resolution. If they believe that the public faith should be preserved inviolate, ask them if the last clause of the same resolution, recognizing only the letter and spirit of the contract, is any better than the oft-quoted rule of the plausibly dishonest, which is to be no more honest than the law absolutely requires. If they believe in Federal supremacy, and that rebellion should be punished, dwell on the first and second resolutions, and on BLAIR'S revolutionary letter and speech, and show them that these things mean the giving back to the South of all that it has lost. If they want a "white man's government," show them the New York World which, quoting Judge TANEY'S decision in the DORR case, proved, a few days since, beyond any question, that the present Southern State Governments with equal suffrage could never be disturbed. If they believe in the equal rights of a common humanity, show them the manifest intent in the second resolution, to recognize in the reconstructed States, the right, law or no law, to undo all that has been done, and to restrict the suffrage once more to those rebels who so nearly brought the Republic to ruin. If your Democratic neighbor is a farmer, ask him how his farm is to escape from assessment and taxation at its full cash value, under the fourth resolution. If he claims that slavery and secession are declared to be dead issues, show him the Democratic speeches at Richmond the other night, which claimed that the "lost cause" was about to be regained under SEYMOUR and BLAIR, and then read to him BLAIR'S declarations for an armed restoration of "Southern rights." In short, the Republican citizen can find something in the platform of Democracy which shall so well suit the case of his Democratic neighbor, as to clinch upon his mind the conviction that the confidence which he has heretofore reposed in his political leaders has been shamefully betrayed. That confidence once uprooted, nine-tenths of these Democrats would be ripe for Republican conviction, and that conviction would speedily follow.

SHALL RECONSTRUCTION BE POSTPONED.

The work of Reconstruction goes on well in the Southern States. In a few days more the job will be finished in all but two or three of the States, and it will be through no fault of Congress that it will remain unfinished in any.

As fast as Reconstruction progresses, the supreme control is turned over to the civil authorities, the military sinking into its proper subordination. If the whites of that section listen to such counsellors as Gov. ORR, there will be no need of farther military repression, and the last positive trace of subjugation will have disappeared. Both business and politics will resume their natural condition.

At this point Mr. BLAIR puts himself at the head of a new crusade, and is warmly seconded by many Democratic leaders. He demands that the settlement now so nearly completed shall be broken up; that the whole matter shall be gone over again, and on a different basis; and that the country shall be subject to fresh turmoil, which will derange business, create additional alienations, and postpone Reconstruction, if not indefinitely, at least for some years.

Business men will be slow to countenance this movement, even though they were not pre-possessed in favor of the Congressional plan. It is much easier to go through in accordance with that plan, thereby attaining a certainty of repose and prosperity to the whole country, than to go back and begin a new settlement, that may end, nobody can tell how.

But the Congressional plan is not harsh and oppressive. So lenient a settlement of a great rebellion was never before made in the history of governments. What the Democrats actually complain of is not that severities are visited upon the whites, but that ameliorations and recompenses are offered to the blacks. Acknowledging in their platform that slavery has so effectually ceased that all thought of restoring it must be forever abandoned, they nevertheless insist on maintaining many political distinctions that had their origin in that institution, and are utterly repugnant where universal freedom is recognized.

What they want is to give the former slaveholders and rebels control of the Southern States, to the exclusion of the only powerful loyal element existing there. To say that plainly would not help that bad enterprise. So they resort to circumlocutions, denouncing a fiction of their own creation, which they call "negro supremacy," and protest glibly that this is a "white man's government," with much other nonsense of kindred import. All this is sham. Everybody understands that if the Democrats could add a million to the number of their voters, in any decent way, they would not be slow to embrace the opportunity. Indeed, they are not particular whether they make voters decently or evenly legally, or not. Look at the stupendous frauds proved upon them in this State, before the late Legislature! Look at their persistent opposition to honest voting manifested through their hostility to a fair Registry Law! It would be difficult to make any sensible man believe that leaders so greedy to get votes, honestly or dishonestly, would not gladly accept a million votes for SEYMOUR and BLAIR from black men, if they could get them. That is the rub. They do not find it so easy to wheedle the blacks as to hoodwink certain classes of whites; and hence they prefer that the men who made the rebellion should do all the voting at the South.

Even this appeal to inveterate prejudice and blind passion against negro suffrage will not avail. The great bulk of the people, in all parts of the country, are anxious to have the rebellion finally closed out by the restoration of the States that embarked in it. That result is nearly consummated; and no considerations the Democratic leaders can urge will be permitted to frustrate it.

ASHAMED OF BLAIR.

BLAIR'S revolutionary declarations, before and after his nomination, are making serious troubles for the Democratic managers, who concur in his sentiments but regret their premature revelation. Even our Democratic Senator, Mr. BUCKALEW, was forced to say, in the Senate, the other day, that such sentiments must be disowned: that, for his own part, he was utterly opposed to any overthrow of the reconstructed State governments, as proposed by BLAIR. Mr. BUCKALEW insisted that the Democratic party is not responsible for BLAIR'S rebellious and incendiary threats. But it must be borne in mind that this very letter from BLAIR procured for him the nomination. Upon the precise issue which BLAIR proposed, WADE HAMPTON put him in nomination, FORREST seconded it, and every rebel delegate joined instantly in the clamorous chorus, and BLAIR got every vote, North and South, on the first ballot. More than this, BLAIR accepted the nomination in a subsequent speech reiterating the same violent assertions.

Mr. BUCKALEW'S protest comes too late. It gives the measure of the apprehensions which a sober second thought has inspired in the leaders of his party, but it can never explain away, palliate or justify a nomination which was not fit to be made. And the protesting Senator will no doubt go on speaking and voting for this candidate whom he has apparently repudiated. His protest is all for effect, and means only that the people are to be humbugged in the orthodox Democratic fashion once more.

The N. Y. World of the 13th attempts to pooh-pooh BLAIR'S utterances, as of no real consequence, since he could only be Vice President at any rate, and would have no administrative duties. It disposes of another obvious objection with a remark which leaves it to be inferred that Democratic Presidents never die in office, and so BLAIR could never reach the succession. Nevertheless, the World is conscious that this grave matter is not to be thus whistled away, and finds itself compelled to "acknowledge the corn," as follows:

> As to the letter itself, it is too outspoken to need much comment. "There is but one way," it says, to get rid of the negro governments, and that is, to disperse them by military force. This is a point on which Democrats differ. For ourselves, we have repeatedly expressed the opinion that there is no other remedy within the next four years than the one which General Blair indicates; but a considerable portion of the Democratic party differ from us, and believe that when we have elected a President we shall discover a peaceful mode of upsetting the bastard governments. We do not think it wise to renew the discussion of this question until after the election.
> The Democratic party has doubtless made itself responsible, to some extent, for the recent utterances of its candidates. It is responsible for those of Governor Seymour as well as for those of General Blair. Governor Seymour, in his Cooper Institute speech, made the financial question the grand pivot of his policy, and put forth views which must command the approval of all honest and enlightened men. General Blair, in his letter, makes the overthrow of negro reconstruction the all important thing, and belittles the financial question. With candidates thus publicly differing, what did the Democratic Convention decide? By nominating Governor Seymour for the position of real authority it gave its practical indorsement to his views; by nominating General Blair for an office without any power, it affirmed indeed its detestation of the negro governments, but reserved the question how they were to be dealt with for future decision. Had the candidates changed places, the Convention would doubtless have made a mistake. The next Democratic President can make no civil or military appointments without the consent of the Republican Senate; and while Mr. Blair would have been unable to get his nominations confirmed, Mr. Seymour will probably find no difficulty. If Mr. Seymour should die in office, the Senate would compel Mr. Blair to keep all his predecessor's civil appointees, including the Cabinet, and would allow him to give no new officers to the army. The pretended alarm at his letter is ridiculous.

IT IS astonishing with what gravity the Democratic leaders keep on making predictions, destined never to be realized, apparently unconscious that their reputation for prophecy was bankrupted long ago. With what solemnity they announced that a State could not be coerced, that the rebellion could not be repressed, that slavery could not be abolished, that the Southern States could not be restored on the basis proposed by Congress, that the establishment of black suffrage in the rebel States, by federal laws, would lead to a war of races, and many other things of cognate import. Indeed, though they kept up a deluge of prophecies for eight years, not one of them has been fulfilled. Yet they go on apparently under the full conviction that they are producing profound impressions upon the country. Here is Mr. BLAIR predicting and inciting to a fresh appeal to arms, to try over again an issue that has already been submitted to that arbitrament, and been so decided that the judgment cannot be revoked. The thing will not, and cannot be done. The people of this country have had enough of civil war to last for a century, and are intent, with Gen. GRANT, upon having Peace.

THE DEMOCRACY entirely mistook their man when they undertook to use JOSIAH COHEN'S name as a supporter of their nominations and platform. That gentleman's card, appended hereto, very effectively disposes of this bit of Democratic brag, and will be read with much pleasure by his acquaintances and Republican friends. His powerful influence with his people will be cast, as ever, into the scales with the highest intelligence and patriotism. Read:

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is due to the Republican voters of Allegheny county, as well as to the Allegheny County Republican Executive Committee, of which I have the honor to be a member, and of whose principles I am an adherent, to state that the announcement of my name among the list of Vice Presidents at the Democratic meeting held on Monday evening last was entirely unauthorized by and unknown to me, and against my wishes.

JOSIAH COHEN.

THE Democratic platform distinctly "recognizes the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time." Was that position taken candidly or deceitfully? Was it intended as an honest expression of the mature judgment of the Democratic party, or was it designed as a fraudulent lure to beguile hesitating Republicans into the Democratic fold? Evidences abundantly exist in the platform itself to show that the admission was not sincerely made, and that the legitimate inferences from it were not intended to be carried out. Outside of the platform, in Mr. SEYMOUR'S record, and in Mr. BLAIR'S late letter and speech, and in the applause wherewith they were received by Democrats of various grades, the proof is conclusive that the leaders intended a deception; to give tokens which they did not mean to redeem.

THE DEMOCRATIC SOLDIERS at New York asked for the warrior, HANCOCK, and got SEYMOUR, who opposed the war, and called the New York rioters against the draft his "friends." The man who fought at Gettysburg was discarded for the other man, who would have shouldered a musket with the rebel side if he had dared. And the Pennsylvania politicians, WOODWARD, CLYMER & Co., who might have secured HANCOCK'S nomination if they would, but who frittered away the old Keystone's vote in foolishly backing ASA PACKER, thereby making the State simply contemptible, are responsible for the failure. Will the Democratic soldiers never find out that, in the Copperhead view, it is an unpardonable sin ever to have fought for the old flag?

THE Pittsburgh Chronicle is assured, by an Ohio delegate, that the nomination of SEYMOUR was effected by the PENDLETON men, to prevent the selection of CHASE. This version of the affair would prove that Tammany was fairly beaten at its own game of intrigue. Our neighbor's informant makes a very plausible story of it, but we prefer rather to credit the testimony of CAGGER, with the other evidence which circumstantially but conclusively proves that SEYMOUR was the choice of Tammany and Wall street from the first, and that the PENDLETON men only at last played the part which had been intended for them. Are they so simple as not to perceive it?

WHEN a delegate from this district took the floor in the Chicago Convention and promised a majority of ten thousand for GRANT and COLFAX, there were many who took no stock in the prediction, feeling that the pledge was of an extravagant order and could not be kept. Since then, however, the ranks have been closing up, and to-day the Republican party of Allegheny county presents a solid front to the enemy, and promises a majority even larger than that originally pledged. The issue is a clearly defined one. There is no hesitation, no pausing in doubt, no uncertainty, no wavering. The Union banner again floats inviting loyal legions to confront the same army of revolutionists that planted the standard of treason in sight of the National Capitol, and Patriotism is not slow in prompting the acceptance of the invitation. Republicans throughout Pennsylvania are expected to do their full duty; the pledge of Allegheny county for ten thousand majority will be more than faithfully kept, and if other districts do their share of work the State may be relied upon as sure to give an overwhelming majority for GRANT and COLFAX.

THEY say that ASA PACKER and his friends don't feel pretty well, in view of the discreditable and contemptuous manner in which that distinguished citizen was used as the cover for a SEYMOUR intrigue.

Political Items.

HORATIO SEYMOUR has been three times defeated as a gubernatorial candidate.

GEN. GRANT hopes for peace and prosperity. Gen. Blair desires war and discord.

IT is said that the Democrats have adopted the apple blossom as a campaign badge. It will be worn on the nose.

PENDLETON and Vallandigham wrecked the Democratic party in 1864. They will do the same thing in 1868.

THE bondholders' candidate—Horatio Seymour.

THE rulers of the Democratic party—"that pestilent Blair family."

IF you want to make a Democrat mad, say Blair to him. It is worse than a red rag to a turkey rooster.

JOB had the boils, but he was spared the Blairs. If he had them, his wife need not have urged him to curse himself to death. He would have done it without her advice.

THE Democracy have the Blairs, bad. The seven years' itch would be a mild affliction in comparison. A combination of all the diseases curable by Helmbold's specifics would be preferable to the Blairs.

A FIRE EATING candidate for office down South was asked his opinion on negro suffrage. "Oh, d—n the niggers, They should not be allowed to vote at all." "Yes, Colonel, but about five hundred of them in your district want to vote the Democratic ticket." "Oh, ah! Yes—yes—very well. That makes all the difference in the world."

LIEUT. GEN. SHERMAN, according to the Chicago (Democratic) Times, replied to a crowd in St. Louis on Friday evening when asked what he thought of the nomination of Seymour. "It is a bad nomination and will be beaten all to pieces. Grant will be elected." Sherman evidently understands himself, as well as Grant and Seymour.

DIALOGUE ON A CAMDEN AND AMBOY TRAIN.—Chase man—"Say, Pendletonian, didn't Belmont and Barlow, Tilden and Sweeney euchre your crowd nicely?"

Pendletonian—(Profanely and gruffly)—"Yes; why shouldn't they? They commenced the game with the four knaves in their boots."

STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES.

Malaria, the most deadly enemy of health, is everywhere active in July and August. The blazing sun is decomposing and fermenting every species of vegetable and animal abomination, and poisonous gases that depress and infect the system are universally present. On the prairies, in the swamps, in the woods, and in the midst of crowded cities, this development of the elements of disease is now going on. In short the human body is in a state of siege, and reason and common sense suggest that its DEFENCES BE STRENGTHENED. A stimulant, a tonic, a corrective, and an alterative are required to put it in perfect trim, and these four grand requisites are combined in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. A man must be made of steel not to be affected by the morbid matter set afloat in the atmosphere by the rays of an almost vertical sun. Nine-tenths of the community are premonished at this season by debility, indisposition for exertion, nervousness, &c., that they need something to build them up and regulate their animal machinery. Do they want to "fight it out on that line all summer," or to achieve an immediate victory over their unpleasant symptoms, and secure that first of Heaven's blessings—"a sound mind in a sound body?" If the latter is their desire let them resort to the BITTERS without delay. That agreeable and potent vegetable regenerative will soon restore the system to its balance—regulating the liver, strengthening the stomach, gently relieving the bowels, and giving vigor, elasticity and energy to the whole frame. These are proven facts. No man who reads the testimony on which they are founded can for a moment doubt them.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Tuesday, July 14, 1868.

Gold again advanced to-day; the market opened at 141¾, and closed at 142. The advance was rather sudden and unexpected, and those who have bought at near 140 are selling out. The advance of the premium, however, is not due to a desire to speculate on an advance, but to the continued heavy exports of about four million dollars per week; at that rate it would take every dollar of gold the banks hold now to supply the market to September first, when again some five million dollars will be disbursed for interest.

Government bonds are rather steady but dull, with scarcely any investment demand, but quotations are maintained on account of the rising tendency of gold and the scare at the stock exchange about the altered certificates of most of the leading railroads. The price of governments is now entire dependent on the easy money market here; the quotations from Europe show that there will likely be little demand from there, and exports of bonds will be limited to small lots on speculation.

Railroad shares are dull and lower. New York Central, Erie, Cleveland & Pittsburgh, and nearly all the leading roads are from 1 to 2 per cent. lower. Express shares remain inactive.

Money is still easy, but business is very dull.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 142; 1881 bonds, 113⅛; 5-20s, 1862, 113; 1864 do, 110⅛; 1865 do. 111⅜; new, 1865 and 1867, 108⅝; Ten Forties, 107¼; Seven Thirties, 108⅝.

New York Central, 132½; Erie, 67⅞; Michigan Southern, 90⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 85⅜; Northwestern, common, 78¾; Preferred, 80⅞; Chicago & Rock Island, 107⅜; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 107½; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29½; Merchants Union Express, 24¾; Western Union Telegraph, 34¾; Corydon, 30; Quicksilver, 20¾; Quartz Hill, 1,15.

—An important feature of the Tax bill as it passed the Senate, is that putting coal oil and its manufacturers on the free list. This amendment is of much interest to our own State.

—The following stocks were sold last evening, on the second floor of Commercial Sales Rooms, No. 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIlwaine, Auctioneer:

Exchange National Bank....................$68 00
M. & M. " " 66 00

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Monday, says: There was a fair demand for money all last week, and the rate of interest on call loans was generally five per cent. on stocks and four per cent. on Governments. The banks are disposed to keep their funds within easy control, in preparation for any demand that may be forthcoming from the West. Discounts range at six per cent. for prime names.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Monday, says: The local Money market, as remarked yesterday, seems, after the little stir and changing of funds, consequent upon statement day, to have settled back into its former stagnant condition. The banks have not only a full supply of lonable funds, but the supply is thought to be temporarily increasing, and bankers are beginning to complain that they have no use for it at all. All the bankers are just now very ready to discount short time paper, but none seem to care to let out funds for sixty days, as they anticipate finding abundant use for lonable funds before that time.

The same paper also say; Some of our private bankers who make real estate loans a speciality report money easy in that line. Loans in sums of say $1,000 and upwards, are freely made on one to three years' time, on "inside" business property, at eight per cent, and in the same amounts on "outside," or residence property, at ten per cent. As the borrower, however, has to pay all the expenses of abstract of title, mortgage, etc., and usually a broker's commission besides, it generally costs him from twelve to fourteen per cent on the latter class of loans.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 141¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113⅜; 5-20's, 1862, 113⅛; 5-20's, 1864, 110⅛; 5-20's, 1865, 111⅜; 10-40's, 107⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108⅞; June 7-30's, 108¾; July 7-30's, 108¾; May Comp., 1865, 119.-30.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Tuesday, July 14, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again exceedingly quiet to-day, and while there was but little done, prices have undergone no quotable change compared with yesterday. Sals of 1,500 bbls for July at 12½c; and 500, spot, at same figure. We heard of offers to buy for August and September at 13c. buyer's option, each month, we presume. The demand at present is exceedingly light, and as an impression prevails among refiners that the bottom has not yet been touched, they are disposed to to buy as sparingly as possible or hold off, so as to be able to take advantage of a decline should it occur. On the other hand, the disposition to sell is by no means urgent, and while there are some willing to accept present prices, there are others who are disposed to hold back and wait for an advance.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also exceedingly quiet to-day, and devoid of any new or important characteristics worthy of special notice. We can report sales of 500 for last half of September, and 500 for last half of October, on private terms; 1,000 for first half August, at 33½; and 500 for last half of same month at same figure. Spot oil is reported as having been sold in Philadelphia to-day at 32 and August to November was quoted at 33½. The advices from the east report the market very quiet, with but little disposition to operate, and while the under current of the trade is decidedly bearish, there seemed to be a steadier feeling than there was yesterday.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

McCreery & B.	320	D. M. Edgerton	80

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Tuesday, July 14, 1868.

The oppressively hot weather, has a tendency to restrict business, which at best has been and is still very dull; nor is it probable that there will be any improvement within the next thirty days—not until the harvest is fairly over, and the movement of the crops commenced. Flour is dull and weak, with a drooping tendency, and the same is true of Wheat. Provisions a shade firmer, and a fraction higher, compared with last week.

BUTTER—The supply although not very large, is nevertheless considerably in excess of the demand, and prices are barely maintained; we continue to quote at 23 to 25c. for prime to choice fresh packed.

EGGS—In rather better demand, and prices are tending upward; we now quote at 22 for fresh packed.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged, at 13 to 14c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16c for Factory, and 18 to 20c for Sweitzer.

GRAIN—We can report sales of new Tennessee Wheat at $2,25, and it is said that No. 1 Winter Red (old) can be delivered here from Cincinnati at $2,20. Quotations, therefore, may be fairly given at $2,20 to $2,25 for prime old and new. There is not much inquiry for Rye and little or none in market; the distillers, we understand, have stopped buying until the Whisky tax is settled. Corn is quiet and difficult to quote correctly; we can report two cars mixed at $1,02; prime Yellow would bring $1,05 to $1,06. Oats in rather better demand and a shade firmer; sales on track, and in elevator at 78c, and in store at 80.

HAY—Under the influence of the diminished arrivals, has advanced. Weighmaster McNulty, at the Allegheny Diamond scales, reports sales of 19 loads at $19 to $23 for new, and $20 to $28 for old.

SEEDS—There is some little inquiry for Cloverseed on speculation, with $6 to $6,50 offered, without finding sellers; but little in this market. Flaxseed is in good demand at $2,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with regular jobbing sales at 13½ to 13¾c for Shoulders; 16c to 18 for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 20 to 20½c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 18¼ to 18½c, for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 21 to 22c. Mess Pork, $28,50 to $29.

POTATOES—Coming in quite freely, and prices are barely maintained, $5 to $5,50 per bbl.

LARD OIL—Is firmer, though there is no improvement in the demand; $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,40 for No. 1.

SALT—To the trade we quote at $1,75 to $1,80, and from store in small lots at $2 per barrel.

FLOUR—Continues dull and weak, though without quotable change. We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for fair to good Spring Wheat; $11 to $11,25 for Winter Wheat, and $12 to $13 for fancy brands. New Tennessee Flour is being offered by Messrs. Isaiah Dickey & Co. at $11,50. Rye Flour, $8,75 to $9.

New York Dry Goods Market.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

New York, July 14.—The Dry Goods market is steady and firm, and a fair inquiry for staple cottons and low priced woollens for the season; demand however, is in no way active or general, with the thermometer at 95 to 101 degress in the shade. We quote heavy Brown Sheeting at 17½c for Appleton A; Pocassett Canoe, 17c; Nashua E, 18c. do. R, 16c; do. O, 14½; Saranac, 18c; Broadway, 15c; Atlantic L, 15c; Pacific L, 15c; Great Falls, S S, 15c; Holden, N, 15c; Continental C, 16c; Laconia E, 14c; do, B, 14½c; do. O, 14½c; Pepperell E, 16c; do. R, 15c; do. O, 14c; do. N. 13c. Ellerton O Canton Flannel, 25c; do. N, 29c; Tremont heavy bleached, 20c; do. fine, 16; Ellerton B, 23c; new styles standard prints in fair request, 13½a14½c for fancy; while American blue brings 16½c.

Toledo Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Toledo, July 14.—Flour nominal. Wheat receipts 1450 bu and steady; sales amber at $2,20 on the spot: $1,75 sellers for August. Corn—receipts 12,900 bu and active at 91c for regular, and 92c for fresh. Oats—receipts 2,200 bu and dull at 68¾a69c.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Chicago, July 14.—Beef Cattle are very dull and sales were made at $6a7,50 for fair to good and smooth lots. Hogs are dull and 10a15c lower, with sales at $8,35a8,50 for fair to medium, and $8,55a8,75 for good to choice smooth.

St. Louis Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

St. Louis, July 14.—Cattle; common in large supply, but good to choice not so plenty; prices unchanged.

Byron.

An English writer, in the course of a review of a new life of Byron, says:

His name did not appear on subscription lists, though his purse was always open to the needy; he wrote Hebrew melodies, which a living critic has pronounced to be "fraught with the spirit of Isaiah," but he did not subscribe to the "Propagation of the Gospel Society;" he abhorred slavery, but he did not swell the train of Mr. Wilberforce. He poured forth profusely descriptions of the glories of foreign lands, but he indulged in none of the sentiments which make Englishmen "justly proud of their country."

In his opinions he was a kind of "Hermit in London"—not one of the smooth and similar people people whose verses edify and whose after dinner speeches delight an approving public. He puzzled people quite as much as he delighted them, and, unluckily for himself, he delighted in puzzling them. But the hero of a season rides, and will ever ride, with a slave in his triumphant chariot. The golden statue has always a foot of clay. Demus gets tired of its handsome and accomplished Alcibiades, and next to the pleasure of seating him on the throne, is the pleasure of dragging him off it.

Neither consent of credible witnesses nor zeal in his champion is able to display Byron in a uniform light. Those who were admitted to his intimacy concur in their accounts of his mutability. He was at once silent and self-centered, free of speech, and affable of demeanor; at times sad and speculative as Hamlet; at times as mocking and and grotesque as Scarron. Highly generous and benevolent, he deemed no sacrifice for others too great; yet he delighted to tease his friends, as children delight in teasing their pets; and his correspondence shows him parodying writers whom he highly esteemed, or penning lampoons on those whom he had praised in verse, and to whom he had dedicated poems.

His literary tastes were not more consistent than his personal likings. He was among the foremost innovators in English poetry, and yet a worshiper at the shrine of Pope. There is reason for thinking him indifferent to Shakspeare; and though the poem which made him famous between bedtime and breakfast was written in the Spenserian measure, he could not endure The Fairy Queen. Like Horace Walpole, he reviled kings, yet there are few sympathies in his writings for "King Mob;" he often satirized his own order, and yet he was proud of his Norman blood. He was consistent in his love for Shelley and Moore, and the strokes he most severely felt were those caused by the early deaths of his school and college friends. Shelley, by his scholarship, by his imaginative power, and metaphysical speculations, inspired him with a kind of awe, which did not, however, interfere with true affection. Moore's society and correspondence afforded him unmixed and unfailing delight. Neither was there any variableness in his demeanor to dependents. He knew their worth as well as he knew that of the parasites who sunned themselves in his favor. To Fletcher and Tita he was a kind and equable master; he played with, according to their deserts, the Medwins and Polidoris of his retinue.

Mark Twain on the Accordeon.

Mark was, as many other young men are at some period of their lives, anxious to learn music. He tried first one instrument, then another, till finally he settled down to the accordeon. On that soul-stirring article of music he learnt to play that melodious and popular air "Auld Lang Syne." For about a week he continued to torture his unwilling hearers, when, being of an ingenious turn of mind, he endeavored to improve upon the original melody by adding some variations of his own. But who has ever seen a real genius succeed yet? Just as Mark had finished his only tune, and wound up with an admirable flourish, the landlady rushed into his room, and said she:

"Do you know any other tune but that, Mr. Twain?" I told her, meekly, that I did not. "Well then," said she, "stick to it just as it is; don't put any variations to it, because it is rough enough to the boarders the way it is now."

The upshot was, that its "roughness" was soon made manifest, for half the boarders left, and the other half would have left had not the landlady discharged Mark. Then, like the wandering Jew, Mr. Twain went from house to house. None would undertake to keep him after one night's music; so at last, in sheer desperation, he went to board at an Italian lady's—Mrs. Murphy by name. He says,

"The first time I struck up the variations, a haggard, care-worn, cadaverous old man walked into my room and stood beaming upon me a smile of ineffable happiness. Then he placed his hand upon my head, and looking devoutly aloft, he said with feeling unction, 'God bless you, young man! God bless you! for you have done that for me which is beyond all praise. For years I have suffered from an incurable disease, and knowing that my doom was sealed, and that I must die, I have striven with all my power to resign myself to my fate, but in vain—the love of life was too strong within me. But heaven bless you, my benefactor! for since I heard you play that tune and those variations, I do not want to live any longer—I am entirely resigned—am willing to die—in fact, I am anxious to die.' And then the old man fell upon his neck and wept a flood of happy tears. I was surprised at these things, but I could not help giving the old gentleman a parting blast, in the way of some peculiarly lacerating variations, as he went out of the door. They doubled him up like a jackknife, and the next time he left his bed of pain and suffering, he was all right in a metallic coffin."

At last Mark gave up his penchant for the accordeon, and from that day gave amateur musicians a wide berth.

The Dome of the Capitol.

The time has come when our wealthy citizens need not go abroad to see the finest specimen of architecture of the kind in the world. Visitors to the shrines of St. Paul and St. Peter's return westward and award the palm of superiority to the dome of the nation's Capitol. Towering three hundred feet from the base to the summit, its superb proportions, unsurpassed in the world of art, at once attract the attention of all beholders, and, as the king of the landscape, reigns supreme. But to see it in all its regal beauty it should be aflame of a night, with its innumerable gas jets; then it becomes, in every sense of the word, "a mountain of light," and shares the honors of the evening with the "Pleiades," "Orion," and the "Milky Way."

The Pharoah who built the mighty pyramid of Egypt simply constructed his own monument, and in the same way the architect of the dome, a citizen of good old Philadelphia, has woven his name into a fragment of the web of Time. Thomas U. Walter—do you know him? the man who held this mighty tower in his brain, in all its perfection, long, long before it ever saw the light of day. When you and I, dear reader, are not so much as a pinch of dust—when the names of Washington and Lincoln are as remote as the sages who lived before Christ—the great architects of the world will live, whether they sprung from the tawny mud of the Nile, the soil of classic Greece, or the rich vegetable mould of the western hemisphere.

Previous to 1856, a dome had been constructed of brick, stone, and wood, sheathed with copper. Its height was one hundred and forty-five feet from the ground. This was torn away to give place to the present structure, which is composed entirely of iron and glass.

The chief engineers employed were Gen. M. C. Meigs and Gen. Wm. B. Franklin. These engineers were detailed from the War Department because it is Government property. Everything pertaining to this work is under the special care of the engineer, and for its faithful execution he is responsible.

As we have already said, the dome is composed of iron and glass, whilst the image which crowns it is made of bronze, designed by Crawford, and executed by Clark Mills. The weight of this goddess is about seventeen thousand pounds. Everything included, the dome weighs ten millions of pounds, which, if turned into gold by the enchanter's wand, would just pay the national debt.—Wash. Cor. Phil. Press.

Jenkins Abroad.

A recent gorgeous article on "Sensationalism" in the London Telegraph gives cheering evidence that the peculiar style of literary genius which shone so brilliantly in some of the accounts of General Scott's funeral is not confined to this country. The writer valiently comes to the defense of the sensational, in a manner entitling him to the thanks of Charles Reade, Mrs. Braddon and Mr. Daly. The spirit of the times is sensational. "The pace of the age is tremendous! Breast-high lies the scent of new times, new life, new thoughts, new societies and new forms of governments." Antonelli and his cardinals say that the world is crumbling; but no, "there is nothing the matter with the brave old planet!—it is as sound and round and strong as ever, and keeps a capital place in the great astronomical steeplechase through the infinities."

He goes further, and says: "We have given a name to this new rapture and sweep of human existence; we call it and its phenomena 'sensational.' The word is a good word, too, like all that ever grow popular and stand public wear and tear. How do men exist on this whirling ball of wonder, this pellet of brown earth and silver seas, that flies singing its little song of motion among the great diapasons of blazing suns and systems? They exist by the senses, of course, and all life is sensational."

The gifted writer reaches his climax in the following sublime outburst:

"In a rattling burst of humanity, such as we see on all sides of us, worthy persons and landable things will and must come now and then to grief. 'As we ride, as we ride,' let us deplore it by all means, and trust that they will soon get into the saddle again and take the next historical fence, or the next but one, alongside of us. And if, alas! in literature finish and solid work have cannoned almost out of the hunt by picturesque vice and paroxysmal, spasmodic, feminine fictionism, look at the vitality under it all; see how it yearns, this new school of mad writing, to get at the moral secret of man, and have the mystery of mortal life—divine or devlish—out into the light at a shilling a number!"

Will not the spirit of Pogram stimulate some American Jenkins to rival or surpass this sublime effusion?

"She Works for a Living."

We don't know who wrote the following lines, nor how often they have been published and republished, but they contain so many good points that they are worthy to be started anew on the sea of literature once or twice a year:

Commend us to the girl of whom it is sneeringly said, "she works for a living;" in her we are always sure to find the elements of a true woman—a real lady. True, we are not prepared to see a mincing step, a haughty lip, a fashionable dress, or hear a string of splendid nonsense about the balls and young men, the new novels and the next party—no, no, but we are prepared to hear the sound words of good sense, language becoming women, a neat dress, mild brow, and to witness movements that would not disgrace an angel.

You who are looking for wives and companions, turn from the fashionable, lazy and haughty girls, and select one from those who work for a living, and never—our word for it—will you repent your choice. You want a substantial friend, and not a doll; a helpmate, and not a help-eat; a counselor, and not a simpleton. You may not be able to carry a piano into your house, but you can buy a spinning wheel or a set of knitting needles. If you cannot purchase every new novel, you may be able to take some valuable paper. If you cannot buy a ticket for the ball, you can visit some afflicted neighbor.

Be careful, then, when you look for companions, and when you choose. We know many a foolish man, who, instead of choosing an industrious and prudent woman for a wife, took one from the fashionable stock, and is now lamenting his folly in dust and ashes. He ran into the fire with his eyes wide open, and who but himself is to blame.

The time was when the ladies went visiting and took their work with them. This is the reason why we had such excellent mothers. How singular would a gay woman look in a fashionable circle darning her father's stockings, or carding wool to spin! Would not her companions laugh at her? And yet such a woman would be a prize to somebody. Blessed is the man who chooses for his wife from despised girls "who work for their living."

MISCELLANEOUS.

640 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

Taken to Jail.—Mayor Drum yesterday committed to jail Patrick M'Closkey, the silverware thief.

Acting Disorderly.—Mayor Drum yesterday fined Zavier Wacker five dollars for acting disorderly in the Third Ward on Sunday afternoon.

Drained.—The pond on Eagle street in the old Eighth ward has been drained, and the place presents a more healthy appearance than formerly.

Will Arrive.—The Detroit Base Ball Club will arrive in the city to-night. They come to play a return match with the Allegheny Club on Thursday afternoon.

Discharged.—Fred. Andregg, charged on oath of Dennis Cahill before Alderman Thomas with keeping a gambling house, was discharged after a hearing yesterday.

County Executive Committee.—A regular meeting of the Republican County Executive Committee will be held at the "Republican Headquarters," City Hall, this afternoon at three o'clock.

Improvement.—The windows in the comb of the roof of the Keystone Skating Rink are being altered so as to work on pivots, which will be a material addition to the ventilating facilities of the place.

Coup de Soliel.—About six o'clock last evening a driver of a lumber wagon died suddenly at his boarding house, No. 79 Spring alley. It is supposed his disease was sunstroke. An inquest will be held this morning.

A Delinquent Husband.—Mary Sweeny, residing at No. 9 McGeary Row, Carson street, alleges that her husband, George Sweeny, struck her in the face with his fist and otherwise abused her. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for his arrest.

Foot Amputated.—The man Slatterly, who had his foot crushed on Monday evening while attempting to jump on a train of cars at the Federal street crossing, had it amputated yesterday morning. Drs. Thorn and Rankin performed the operation.

The Fire Alarm Telegaaph.—The boxes of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, intended for the Lawrenceville district, have all been located and the wires attached, and it is the intention to have the circuit completed and a connection made with the Central office to-day.

Threatened Him.—John Stewart alleges that James Carr came into his house in White Oak alley, Third ward, Allegheny, and shook his fist under his nose and threatened to whip him. A warrant was issued by Alderman Baillie for the arrest of James.

Runaway.—A horse attached to an empty coal wagon ran away yesterday morning on Anderson street, Allegheny. In endeavoring to turn off from Anderson to Lacock street, the wagon collided with a tree box and the runaway was stopped. The wagon was slightly damaged.

Surety of the Peace.—James Andrews made information yesterday against Robt. Pollock for surety of the peace. Andrews, who resides in Allegheny, alleges that Pollock pointed a gun at one of his children and threatened to shoot her. A warrant was issued by Alderman McMasters.

Boy Drowned.—About six o'clock last evening a little boy about ten years of age, son of Philip Kalhof, who resides on Pennsylvania avenue, near Magee street, was drowned in the Monongahela river at Lock No. 1 while bathing. The body had not been recovered at a late hour last evening.

Held for Court.—Reddy McCafferty and George Hall, the parties arrested for breaking into Rev. Steiple's house, in Allegheny, the circumstances of which we published yesterday, had a hearing before Mayor Drum last evening, and were each held for their appearance at court in the sum of $1,000.

Alleged Assault on a Woman.—Mary F. Neely appeared before Alderman Baillie yesterday, and made information against John McCune for surety of the peace. She alleges that McCune assaulted her while passing along Morgan street, Allegheny, and used vulgar and insulting language toward her. A warrant was issued.

Tore His Coat.—According to a statement of John McVay, he has been the victim of rough usage at the hands of Michael Mason. He alleges that Michael attacked, and after striking him several blows, ended by tearing the coat from his body. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Michael by Alderman McMasters.

The Second ward, Allegheny, Grant and Colfax Club met last night, at the School House to hear the report of the Committee appointed at last meeting to district the ward for canvassing. There was no other business transacted. The Club will hereafter hold regular meetings every Tuesday evening during the campaign.

Beat and Abused Him.—William Jackson alleges that while passing the coak works at Dam No. 1, he was attacked and beaten by Michael Woods in a most shameful manner. He made information before Alderman Thomas charging Woods with assault and battery. The accused was arrested, and after a hearing was held for Court.

Collided.—Yesterday morning about ten o'clock a sand wagon being hauled along Pennsylvania avenue near Pride street collided with a milk cart, upsetting the cart and slightly injuring the horse. The milkman was thrown into the street but sustained no injury, and after righting things up, he proceeded on his way as if nothing had happened.

Wants His Umbrella.—James Carnahan wants his umbrella from William McAnine, who, he alleges, carried the article away some time since, and now refuses to return it. It was valued at $4,50, and as he feels that it is too good an article to lose he made information, yesterday, against McAnine for larceny as bailee. A warrant was issued by Alderman McMasters.

Died of His Injuries.—William Lake, who was injured on the Connellsville Railroad, Saturday night, and had his arm amputated Saturday morning, died of his injuries yesterday morning, at four o'clock, at Passavant Hospital. Coroner Clawson was notified and summoned a jury, and after hearing the evidence of Dr. Sutton adjourned to meet at five o'clock this evening.

Maintaining a Nuisance.—Margaret Watkinson made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Crowe with maintaining a nuisance. The prosecuirix alleges that the accused has on his premises in the Eighth ward a pig pen, which is offensive to herself and neighbors and a nuisance to the entire community. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Slight Fire.—Between one and two o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was communicated to the Central office from Box 52, corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Pride street, which was caused by a slight fire in Sawyer's soap factory, on Pennsylvania avenue. The fire department were promptly on the ground and the flames were extinguished before any serious damage was done.

Selling Liquor Without License.—Patrick Murphy made information before the Mayor yesterday against Mary Conners charging her with selling liquor without license. The accused resides near Eversen & Preston's mills in the old Eighth ward, and the prosecutor alleges that defendant sold liquor on several occasions, and that she has not obtained a license. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

The Editorial Excursion Party from New York and New England, will arrive at the Union Depot this morning on their way to the present terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad. The party will be joined by representatives of the GAZETTE, Post and Chronicle. The affair is under the management of Peaslee & Co., the well known New York advertising agents, and a rare good time is anticipated by the excursionists.

Base Ball.—The Cleveland Base Ball Club, which is composed of the most worthy young men of the Forest City, will play a friendly game with the Allegheny Club at Union Park, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. The Cleveland "nine" are determined to retrieve their lost honors, having been recently defeated by the Alleghenians, and a close and animated game may be anticipated by all who attend.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.—On Monday afternoon, a little boy aged ten years, named Itel, whose parents reside in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, narrowly escaped from being drowned in the Ohio river, at the foot of Fulton street. He had gone down to the river to bathe, and getting beyond his depth was just sinking when he was observed by Mr. Gordon Jackson, who plunged into the water and after considerable difficulty succeeded in rescuing him.

Assault and Battery.—Patrick Conney made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Alice Lyons with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused pushed his wife against a wash tub, seriously injuring her. It appears that Mrs. Conney was washing in an alley through which the accused wished to pass, and that, without giving the woman time to make room for her to pass, she pushed her against the tub in a violent manner. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

A Knock Down.—If the statement of Moses Trimble can be relied upon, Samuel Cooley belongs to that class of persons who believe that a "nigger" has no rights which a white man is bound to respect. Moses alleges that he was standing quietly and peaceably on the sidewalk in front of Campbell's tavern, third ward, Allegheny, when Cooley came up and in a very cool manner knocked him down without any cause or provocation. Alderman Bailie issued a warrant for the arrest of the fierce Samuel.

Trouble Among Market Women.—Margaretta Leemetz and Mary Jones, occupying adjoining stands in the market house, got into a little difficulty yesterday which resulted in Margaretta making information against Mary, before Alderman Taylor, for surety of the peace. At the Alderman's office the ladies engaged in a very animated dialogue in German, the official in the meantime being in blissful ignorance of the purpose of the discussion. The case was finally settled by each party paying half the costs.

Interference with an Officer.—Mayor Drum yesterday morning fined J. Voltz, Anton Hanna and Fred. Colp fifteen dollars each for disorderly conduct and interference with an officer. It seems that Colp and Hanna visited Voltz's saloon, in the Third ward, Allegheny, and became very disorderly, when they were arrested. Voltz interfered in the arrest, and endeavored to rescue the parties, when he was arrested himself and all three taken to the lock-up. They were released upon the payment of the fine.

Inhuman Parents.—Mary Hago, a lady residing on Penn street opposite the Central Skating Park, came to the mayor's office yesterday and made information charging Patrick and Mary Dolan with assault and battery. She alleges that the accused have a daughter who is about fifteen years of age, and that they beat and abused her in a most inhuman manner. She says that the girl was beaten with a club until her arms and shoulders were covered with bruises and that both her eyes were blackened, from the effects of a blow from her father's fist. It is alleged that such conduct is an every day occurrance. The accused were arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

Nuisances

Should be abated, and those persons residing on Webster and Water streets, and Stockton avenue, Allegheny, are almost driven from their homes by the outrageous and abominable stench which comes from great piles of all sorts of vile rubbish on the Common, between Seminary Hill and Webster street, which somebody has set fire to, and which thus make an unbearable nuisance. If these piles are being burned to get rid of them, it does not excuse the odor, and the city should see immediately that the smouldering, sickly fires are quenched and the remnants carted away.

The Allegheny Zouaves.

At a meeting of the members of the "Allegheny Light Guards," held at Wilkins Hall last evening the old company was disbanded and a new one organized called the "Allegheny Zouaves."

The meeting was organized by electing Wm. Harvey, Chairman and H. H. Walker, Secretary.

About forty names were enrolled and M. Batchelor was elected Captain pro. tem.

A meeting will be held Tuesday night next, for the purpose of completing the organization, at which time all the yonng men in the city desiring to connect themselves with the organization are requested to be present.

A New Way to Collect a Bill.

William D. Morgan made information against Mrs. Stams before Alderman Taylor for larceny by bailee. It seems that Morgan boards with Mrs. Stams, and on Monday he gave her a fifty dollar bill to pay for his board. This being more than the amount due, the lady sent it to a grocery store near by to get it changed. It is alleged that Mrs. S. had an unsettled account at the store, and the proprietor, ascertaining that the bill had come from her, kept it in payment of the same. Morgan, holding the lady accountable for the money, made the information as stated. The defendant was arrested, and will have a hearing to-day.

CITY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Regular Meeting—Primary Elections to be Held on Saturday, August 15th—The Crawford County System Adopted.

A regular meeting of the Union Republican City Executive Committee was held at the "Republican Headquarters," City Hall, yesterday, at half-past two o'clock, for the purpose of fixing the time for holding the Republican Primary Meetings and for the transaction of such other business as might be brought before the Committee.

The meeting was called to order by Joseph A. Butler, Chairman, Gen. A. L. Pearson acting Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting and requested the Committee to suggest a time for holding the primary meetings and City Convention.

Maj. A. M. Brown moved that the primary meetings for the election of delegates be held Saturday, August 15th, and the Convention on the following Tuesday.

Mr. Robert Elliott moved, as an amendment, that the people vote direct for the candidates instead of electing delegates.

Considerable discussion ensued relative to the best mode of making nominations, after which Maj. A. M. Brown moved, as a substitute for his former motion, and the amendment of Mr. Elliott, that the primary elections be held on the 15th of August, leaving the manner of making nominations to be settled at a future meeting. The motion was not seconded.

The question then recurred on the motion of Mr. Elliott to amend, which was adopted by a unanimous vote.

The motion of Maj. A. M. Brown was then adopted as amended.

Major A. M. Brown moved that the time for holding the elections be between the hours of three and seven o'clock on the day specified. Adopted.

Mr. J. G. McConnell moved that the Republican members of the several election boards be requested to attend and assist in conducting the Republican primary elections in their respective wards. Adopted.

Mr. W. B. Cook moved that in all districts where there was a stated place of holding elections, the primary elections be held at such places of holding elections, and that in districts where there are no fixed places of holding elections the members of the City Committee representing such districts be requested to fix a place and report the same to the chairman of the Committee. The motion was adopted.

On motion of Major A. M. Brown, the place of holding the primary election in the Eighth ward was changed from Lofink's, the present place of holding elections, to the house of Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Thompson moved that all persons appointed to conduct the primary elections be required to take an oath to conduct the same fair and honorably, and to receive none but Republican votes, before entering upon their duties at said elections. The motion was adopted without a dissenting voice.

Mr. Irwin moved that members of the Committee from wards wherein there were vacancies be allowed to select men to fill such vacancies, the same to be subject to the control of the City Convention. The motion was adopted.

Gen. A. L. Pearson, Secretary, submitted the following:

Resolved, That the Republican primary election for the Fifth ward (old Third) be held at the Court House. Adopted.

The following named persons were suggested for membership:

Mr. Irwin, of the Ninth ward suggested the name of James McCandless from said ward

Mr. A. Macklin moved that John Hague be elected a member of the committee in the Eleventh ward vice David Crawford deceased.

Gen. Pearson suggested the name of S. W Reynolds from the Seventeenth ward, vice James W. Wilson, removed.

Joseph A. Butler proposed the name of William Shore vice James McElheny, removed from the Eighth ward.

On motion the above named gentlemen were elected members of the committee.

On motion of Gen. Pearson, the committee on Printing were requested to procure the necessary blanks for notifying members of the time of holding meetings.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

Central Board of Education.

The Central Board of Education met Tuesday afternoon, July 14.

Present—Messrs. Aiken, Anderson, Covert, Craig, Getty, Harrison, Laufman, Mays, Nobbs, Sergeant, Taylor, Wilson and President Brush.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and approved.

The monthly reports of the Principal of the High School and Secretary were read and ordered to be received and filed.

Mr. Craig from the Committee to whom was referred the claims of Samuel Chadwick and B. W. Morgan to represent the district of Collins, reported.

That your Committee, after a careful examination of the papers committed to them and hearing statements from the parties interested, are of the opinion that Samuel Chadwick was duly elected by the proper and legal School Board of Collins district to represent that district in your Board vice J. W. Little, resigned, and we recommend that he be admitted.

Your Committee were led to the above conclusion from the following accepted facts:

First, That the election of School Directors on the second Tuesday of December last was not in conformity with the school law, nor with the consolidation act. It was an election in obedience to the consolidation act, and only such offices were to be filled as were named in that act. School Directors are not named. Our State Superintendant, Mr. Wickersham, has given two decisions, plainly agreeing with the above, but his letter to John McMasters, Secretary of one of the Boards of Collins district, is indecisive.

Second, That the number of votes cast for School Directors in Collins, at that election, show that but few of the voters participated in the election of Directors.

Third, That the Board claiming to be elected at least in part at that election, did not organize in accordance with the law.

Respectfully submitted,

T. J. CRAIG,
J. J. COVERT.
JOHN WILSON.

On motion of Mr. Laufman, the report of the Committee was adopted.

Resolved, That the City Superintendent, Mr. Luckey, be ex officio a member of the High School Committee.

A Jealous Husband.

Nelson H. Williams, a colored man and minister of the gospel, made information before the Mayor yesterday against Moses Parker, also colored, in which he states that Moses threatened to take his life, and he desires that Moses shall be confined in a secure place or give bonds to keep the peace toward all good citizens and particularly toward him, the aforesaid minister. A warrant was issued and Moses was arrested by an officer and conveyed to the lock up, where he endeavored, and partially succeeded in creating a little excitement. He had been in the lock up but a few minutes, when he pretended to be very sick, and to all appearances was suffering the most excrutiating pain. An officer asked Moses the cause of his pain and was informed by him that he had taken five grains of arsenic. A doctor was called in, but failed to discover any symptoms in the case indicating that he had taken poison of any kind except "benzine," which it was quite evident he had been taking in large quantities and oft repeated doses. When asked why he had taken the "deadly potion," he replied that it was on account of the infidelity of his wife; that she was too intimate with the preacher. Finding that the "poison" would not effect his release, he endeavored to make the officer believe him insane, but it was of no avail. He had a hearing last evening, and in default of bail for his appearance at Court was committed to jail.

Aquatic—Walter Brown Challenges Henry Coulter to Row a Five Mile Race.

There has been but little interest taken in this community in aquatic matters since the late fiasco on the Schuylkill between Jimmy Hamill and Henry Coulter—a race which ended in anything but a satisfactory manner to those interested in the test of strength, skill and endurance between the two Pittsburgh rivals. It is known that Hamill has withdrawn from the water and will never row again for money. By some provision in the aquatic code Henry Coulter claims the championship of American waters. That he will have some difficulty in retaining the questionable honor is evidenced by the following challenge put forward through Wilkes Spirit by Walter Brown:

NEW YORK, July 8.

Editor Spirit—Weeks since I issued a challenge to pull the winner of the championship race, which resulted in another bogus victory to Hamill, by the breaking of Coulter's oar. I now call attention to that challenge, and as Hamill has retired from aquatic contests, I hereby challenge Henry Coulter to row me a five mile race for a thousand dollars a side and the championship of America. Waters and other details to be agreed upon at a future time. Waiting an early and affirmatory answer, I remain, very truly, WALTER BROWN.

A Female Pickpocket.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Hainds, residing in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, while in the market house put her hand in her pocket to get out her portmonnie, but found it had been stolen. She immediately made known her loss to the Mayor's police, and shortly afterward officer Bowden arrested a young girl named Lizzie Wolff, on suspicion of being the thief. At the Mayor's office she was searched and twenty-three dollars in money found on her person. Mrs. Hainds says her pocket book contained about eleven dollars, but she failed to identify any part of the money as being hers.

A country woman came to the office a short time after the arrest, and stated that sixteen dollars had been stolen from her, but she also was unable to identify any of the funds. A hearing was had in the case yesterday afternoon, at which the girl told several falsehoods in regard to where she got the money, but at last being detected in her prevarications she confessed to having stolen Mr. Haind's pocket book, but stoutly denies having taken anything from any other person. The money was refunded to the proper owner, and as she refused to prosecute the girl was allowed to depart. She resides in the Third ward, Allegheny, and it is said this is not the first time she has been arrested on a similar charge.

The Oil Trade.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—The almost superhuman efforts lately put forth by the Bulls of the oil market, have at last expended their force, and the results, if not fully up to their expectations, are at least of sufficient interest to the trade that a review of them may not be uninteresting.

Beginning with the month of March when oil was 23 to 24 cents for refined in Philadelphia, and crude was worth 7½ to 8c per gallon, and ending with the 10th day of July when the same oils were worth respectively 35 cents and 15 cents, an advance of 11 cents per gallon or $4,40 per barrel on refined and $2,80 on crude, a period of four months, involving an amount of labor and anxiety almost unparalleled, we will find a complete solution for the present condition of the market with oil dull at 32½ cents for refined and 12½ cents for crude, a decline of one dollar per barrel on each in three days and no buyers at the decline.

1st. What was the real cause of this great advance?

It was the dull season when no one wanted oil in great quantities to burn

It was for the great part in hot weather, when it was difficult, dangerous and necessarily involved great leakage to carry large quantities of oil.

The shipping demand does not begin until August.

Then, why was this advance? The only proper solution lies in the fact that desperate and reckless dealers and speculators, having been caught with large stocks on hand in the face of the approaching dull season, by a bold and determined effort have succeeded in forcing the prices up—up, until their own rashness has defeated their own ends—by starting up more derricks, leading to the discovery of more wells and more oil than has ever before been produced at one period, or deemed possible by the wildest dreamer. A few facts will prove this to be no fancy picture:

On the first of January last the entire stock then above ground in this country was one million barrels. There has been an average daily production since of nine thousand barrels—making one million, six hundred and twenty thousand barrels. Total, 2,620,000 barrels of crude; making 1,834,000 barrels of refined. This production has filled all demand, both real and speculative, leaving us a stock of one million barrels of crude oil on hands.

For the next six months we expect to continue our present production of 12,000 barrels per day—probably increase that, but to reckon it at that figure gives us a total yield for the next six months of 2,160,000 bbls of crude, equal to 1,512,000 barrels of refined. This gives us a total yield for 1868 of 3,760,000 barrels, which added to our stock on hand January 1st, 1868, and throw the whole into refined, makes the supply for 1868, 3,332,000 barrels. Now for a few figures on the estimate for the consumption of 1868. Last year there was consumed throughout the world, in round figures, say 2,000,000 barrels.

In regard to the probable increase in this year's wants over last, the item of naptha must be noticed. Previous to this year this product was used only to a very limited extent as an article for illumination, but owing to the improvements in the lamps for its use, it is fast growing in favor, and now is being shipped and used very extensively as a light. This fact will tend to reduce the ratio of increase in the demand for refined oil in Europe as well as in this country.

Another very important item must not be overlooked, which is: that last year's shipment must not be taken as a proof of the amount needed for consumption, for of the quantity exported a large portion remained on hand on the 1st of January, 1868; a much larger stock than there was on hand at the corresponding period the year before, and reckoned at half a million of barrels.

Now, then, this year's shipments, up to this time, exceed last year's shipments up to the same time 325,000 barrels; or a total export up to this time of over one million barrels, already gone, whilst the total shipment for the whole of last year was one and a half millions, and of this quantity one-half million being on hand at the end of the year, makes our shipments for these first six months of 1868 equal to the entire consumption in Europe, etc., for the entire year 1867.

What is to be done with the twelve thousand barrels per day now being produced with a good prospect of even that amount being increased—with our stocks now—fully one million barrels?

It is argued by some that the natural increase in consumption will use up this large excess in production; but I have shown 1st, that Naptha entering into competition as a light, will have its effect to retard the growth in the consumption of oil, proper; and, 2d, that we have already shipped so far this year enough oil to supply every lamp that burned last year.

So we have then as a supply for the balance of this year as follows:

	Barrels.
Total product for next six months	1,512,000
" stock on hand put into Refined	700,000
Total	2,212,000
Against this we have the ordinary increase of consumption in Europe this year over last, say 20 per cent. on 1,000,000 bbls	200,000
Next six months consumption in the United States, say (large estimate)	500,000
Total	700,000
Estimated surplus on January 1st, 1869	1,512,000

Barrels of refined oil. Now we can understand the cause of the present break down in prices; and well informed dealers, those best informed and unbiased in their judgments, look for crude oil to be dull in this market before sixty days at 7½ to 8 cents per gallon, and refined in Philadelphia at 25 cents or less. This must be the necessary consequence from such tremendous inflation in prices, when the facts bearing on the trade shall have become apparent to the army of speculators, who have recently been induced to buy oil, by the representations of the Bulls, the latter to a large extent being the unknown sellers of the oil. Having run the prices up to fabulous figures, they have sought and found innocent parties to buy them out, and now when they have unloaded, lo! the vast airy castle, built by them for their victims, bursts and vanishes forever from sight.

Useful.

The American Button Hole Overseam and Sewing Machine executes all kinds of stitching, hemming, felling, tucking, cording, braiding, quilting, gathering and sewing, overseaming, embroiders on the edge, also makes beautiful button and eyelet holes. It will suit the shirt maker, dressmaker, tailor, or shoemaker. It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stich or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and in a word, it combines with these advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others.

There are many distinct points of great interest in this machine that might with propriety be especially referred to. The feed is adjustable to suit the weight or thickness of the cloth by raising or lowering, thus preventing any injury to delicate fabrics, hence it will work with equal facility on light or heavy material. The tenisons admit of such nice adjustment and with such ease and certainty, that one of the great difficulties met with in ordinary machines is entirely avoided. Taking the thread from a short, deep bobbin secures uniformity in the tenisons. The shuttle riding in its carrier is subjected to no wear, and requires no oiling, by which the thread would otherwise be soiled; and the wear and friction of a "race" is avoided.

The splendid mechanism of this machine, and the superior skill, workmanship and material employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the Company and its agents to warrant every machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

Give Chas. C. Balsley, the agent a call at the salesroom, second floor over H. Richardson & Co.,'s jewelry store, and satisfy yourself that the American is the best family machine in the world.
